SEEK THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR DISASTER

27 Known Dead and 62 Listed as Missing in Los Angeles Fire

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—Persons responsible for the disastrous Griffith Park bush fire which cost 27 lives and for ordering laborers into the fire-trap canyon, were sought in a three-fold investigation today.

With a promise that criminal prosecution will follow any evidence of negligence, district attorney Byron Fife assigned a deputy to attend the coroner's inquest. At this hearing, scheduled for next Wednesday, a jury composed of five experts, engineers and foresters, will hear evidence from city, county and state investigators.

Coroner Frank Nicks said today the exact death toll of Tuesday's fire in the Box-Pike Mineral Wells canyon may never be known. The latest reports placed the missing at 62, but many of them were believed to be in hospital or had failed to make their safety known to authorities.

Police said Robert D. Barr, 29, an unemployed motion picture projectionist who was arrested for suspicion of arson, did not cause the fatal blaze.

EMPLOYEES CAN BE EASED IF CHEAP MONEY AVAILABLE

Says Cheap Money Would Provide Work

Mayor Knott Says Solution in Hands of Federal Gov't. Alone

If the federal government could provide cheap money and investment in a way satisfactory to local business, Mayor Knott today said, it would be a great relief to the unemployed in this city.

"Lack of cheap money is all that is holding us back," he said, "and that goes for every city in Western Canada. We can't go ahead with absolutely necessary improvements at current rates of interest. The federal government could provide cheap money and they are the only people who can."

A flood of cheap money in Canada would do more to get things moving than anything else, he said.

As an indication that Edmonton is doing what can be done in the way of providing jobs, Mayor Knott said that the Dominion government would make cheap money available.

Dillon Reed Huge Profits From Pools of Private Stock Bared

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Amid sharp charges between bank-busts Carter, Peoria, and Virginia, and Ferdinand Pecora, counsel, the Senate Banking Committee yesterday heard that partners in Dillon, Read and Company reaped huge profits from pool sales of private stock in an investment trust the company formed.

The stock transactions were brought out by Pecora's questioning of Robert E. Christie, Jr., a Dillon partner, in the banking house, its secretary-treasurer and newly formed partner in the investment trust.

Christie followed Clarence Dillon, the senior partner and president of the trust, in the witness stand.

Dillon told the committee he favored greater publicity on the operations of corporations and banks. Pecora, pointing to his testimony that 11 of the partners sold common stock of the United States and foreign securities corporation at an average of $83 a share, said the company partners originally 20 cents each.

Christie said approximately 74,000 shares were disposed of and that one block of 10,000 shares, which he bought for $10 each from Dillon, was sold for $83 a share.

Christie said the bank formed a pool operation involving a total volume turnover of approximately 150,000 shares in its first month of operation and that its shares were sold to the public at a value of $83 a share.

LOVE ANGLE IN SASK. MURDER TRIAL SEEN

Young Whitlock to Have Killed Brother

BATTLEFORD, Sask., Oct. 5.—Bill Bahrey, Whitlock farmer, alleged slayer of his brother, Alec, last April and now fighting for his life on a charge of murder, was born at Battleford 26 years ago but received only two weeks schooling in the town where he was born.

This evidence was given yesterday by Bahrey's aging father as the murder trial opened here at court of Justice J. T. Brown in court of King's bench.

Bahrey is alleged to have shot his brother near his home in the white north of this city. Accused he then said to have had the body to a straw stack and set fire to it.

A love angle involving Alec's wife, Doris Bahrey, is held to be one of the motives for the crime. Charges Bahrey allegedly killed his brother, remains of burning clothing and copper castings, found on a 25-26 rifle found by police in the ashes of the burnt straw pile were filed in evidence.

Evidence was given by accounts sister, another brother and neighbor. Twenty-six witnesses will be called by the crown but the defence has revealed its hand, having already failed in an effort to have the twenty-six year old Bahrey adjudged mentally unfit to stand trial.

"FASG OF BOXCAR STRIKE" IS THEIR ALTIMATUM

Striking Furniture Makers Insistent That Attempt to Burn Shipment of Radios Not Their Responsibility — But Business Will Be Lost

STYATFOORD, Ont., Oct. 5.—Stratford furniture makers, clinging steadfastly to their strike that has closed five plants, last night denied responsibility for setting after a freight carload of radio cabinets, moved from factories here by strikebreakers.

But the early-morning fire at Kitchener, apparently started by the strikers by a person who was gasoline and then a lighted match in the car, had severe repercussions here.

One announcement was definite. It was made unofficially late Wednesday by executives of several large radio manufacturing companies. The Kitchener fire was the "last straw," they said. Cabinet making business that has employed about $300,000 for furniture factories and has been in the town for years, was to be taken away and placed elsewhere.

Frederick Colling, chief organizer of the Workers' Unity League, which sponsored the strike, declared the strikers were not concerned in the case with the Kitchener fire. "We know nothing about it and we are not interested," he said.

A surprise police raid at the McLaughlin furniture factory resulted in the dispersing of a group of strikers who were in the act of burning radio cabinets from a box car. When police dispersed them, they left the plant quietly, there was no serious damage.

He said that it was proposed to incorporate in the customs tariff (or industries) provisions for a provision enabling goods to be applied, when required, to goods from countries where currencies are depreciated in terms of gold to Australian currency.

In addition to containing an announcement of reductions in the year ended June 30, 1933. Total revenue for the period amounted to $73,310,000 while expenditures totaled $69,390,000.

Increases in receipts include: customs, $1,033,341; sales tax, $1,110,000; income tax, $1,000,000. Revenues for 1933-34 were estimated by Premier Lewis at $74,000,000 and expenditures at $64,000,000.

The prime minister said that in view of general economic conditions in the country, the government considered the time had arrived for relieving some of the present tax burdens.

The government proposed tax reductions of $7,000,000 in the present year, and $10,000,000 in the next year, reducing interest and other costs of industry, and lowering the cost of living.

In the income tax category, the company rate was lowered from one shilling 4 pence to one shilling 2 pence, and the personal exemption rate reduced to 15 per cent, and the special tax on income from property dropped to 10 per cent.

NO "OVERVALUATION" Speaking on monetary matters Prime Minister Lyons told the House that it was clearly agreed.

NATIONAL MARKET BOARD URGED

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., Oct. 5.—Immediate government aid to available soldiers and sailors had been posted in the centre of the city under street signs to all soldiers and suspicious-looking persons.

ALL AGENCIES MUST UNITE IN RELIEF WORK

Roosevelt Calls For a National Council of Neighborhoods

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—President Roosevelt last night called for the relief agencies of the United States to unite in their efforts to help the "harder part still ahead" and told the states and communities they must do their share before the federal government supplements the needs of the destitute.

Speaking before the National Conference of Catholic Charities, Mr. Roosevelt praised the co-operation of church and private institutions for their help in "the climb out of the valley of gloom" and urged a national spirit of neighborhood to complete the work.

He made no reference to recovery policies except to say that the federal government was "calling for a willingness to sacrifice individual gain, to work together for the public welfare and for the success of a broad national program of recovery."

Immediately after his address, the president conferred in a special train for an overnight ride back to Washington, after an absence of about a week.

Fatal Train Wreck Blamed To Bandits

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 5.—Bandits seeking to loot an international passenger train were blamed last night for wrecking a freight train, killing three of the crew.

Enroute from Mexico City, the freight was derailed 125 miles north of here. The engine and six cars plunged 300 feet into a ravine. Bodies of the engineer, fireman and brakeman were found at the bottom of the ravine.

New Pension Body Sworn In Today

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—The personnel of the new pension commission were sworn in today by E. J. Lemire, clerk of the privy council, who also administered the oath of office to E. H. Coleman, formerly of Winnipeg, recently appointed under-secretary of state.

Restore Hope To Heart Sick

By R. T. Elliott, K.C., 1150 Summit Ave., Victoria, B.C.

In this short article Mr. Elliott points out prevailing views of parenthood and the working of the instinctive factor in the parent's mind. The message of the Church is broadened so that its most powerful experience may carry it to all classes of humanity, wherever the restoration of hope is necessary.

THE HEART — SICK AND HORROR-WORN

Hope is just as necessary as food and clothes and fuel; because thoughts are things, and the heart is always destructive and deteriorating.

Between provinces, and between city and country, and between individuals, it is necessary to have the use of friendly helpful understanding, so that the interests of the one are not advanced at the cost of the other. The barrier in the way of this is the establishment of the localized institutions.

Even in the churches there is the tendency to become localized and parochial; the city church for the city and the country church for the country. This is the working of the instinctive factor, and it tends to the bringing about of a lack of understanding between city and country.

Makers and vendors of things spiritual and fermented never fall into this trap. The mind of the people is carefully looked after, and even anticipated, by ample supplies of distilled and fermented liquors.

Publicists also look carefully after the supplying of ample propaganda in both city and country; not always uniform and consistent as regards persons, but uniform in point of distribution.

As a result of the happenings between 1914 and 1932 there lives in this nation, as in every nation, a class of people, substantial in point of numbers, and important in effect upon the national life and especially upon the child life of the nation, who are heart-sick and sorrow-worn. It is to this class of people that the message of the church should be brought in the fulness of the inspiration of the most powerful men available so as to be in truth the bread of life.

There are so many powerful and eloquent divines shut up in cities will never get the message across to those who need it most. There should be an arrangement made whereby every man, for at least one or two months of the year, would be financed for national service; to talk to small community audiences as friends to friends, in the language of hope, faith and inspiration.

No greater opportunity, and no greater necessity confronts the religious forces of the nation. The results are just as certain as the need. Restoring hope to the heart-sick and sorrow-worn gives full scope to the highest human ambition and full scope to the greatest human faculties.

Stardom In Movies Was Too Sudden

Because Charles Laughton's success came "too suddenly" leaving him in leading roles before he considered that he had sufficient dramatic training for the screen, the actor has turned his back on Hollywood and fast contracts, and here is pictured as he sailed for England, where he will return to the legitimate stage for several months, and at a salary that wouldn't keep a movie star in pocket money.

Fuadists Carry Death While Storm Lashes Along Waterfront

HAVANA, Oct. 5.—Four persons were killed in leading roles before he considered that he had sufficient dramatic training for the screen, the actor has turned his back on Hollywood and fast contracts, and here is pictured as he sailed for England, where he will return to the legitimate stage for several months, and at a salary that wouldn't keep a movie star in pocket money.

There was wild firing when patrolling soldiers, sailors and men of the Caribbean army sought to disperse groups of hoodlums on San Lazaro street. A soldier was fatally wounded, a sailor was killed and two Negroes were shot to death.

Throughout the city the assembling of groups was forbidden. Army headquarters announced that available soldiers and sailors had been posted in the centre of the city under street signs to all soldiers and suspicious-looking persons.

An ABC radical and a civilian were shot. A Whitted automobile which fatally wounded the soldier.

Since the storm was moving slowly, the National Observatory predicted gales would sweep Havana throughout the night. Helen Coleman, the secretary of the National Observatory, said the force of the storm was changing slowly and that it was expected to reach its peak in the morning.

Later they rigged up kerosene lanterns to light the way. Observatory reports indicated the new course of the storm might change. Key West and Southern Florida.

SAYS HE ALONE FIRED REICHSSTAG

LEIPZIG, Germany, Oct. 5.—The supreme court pounded away resolutely yesterday in its attempt to learn whether Martin Van Der Lubbe, confessed Reichstag incendiary, had assistance in firing the building last February, but not stubborn denial from the young Dutchman and his four fellow defendants.

Van Der Lubbe was questioned closely concerning the reports of three investigators that "you alone" could not have started the fire which broke out in a number of places.

The Dutchman replied, "I don't know," to a direct question along this line.

"No one helped you?" Judge Wilhelm Buenger asked.

"No," was the answer.

Ernest Torgler, former Communist floor leader in the Reichstag, another of the defendants, emphatically denied having seen Van Der Lubbe or the three Bulgarian accused—Georg Dimitroff, West Torgler and Blagoi Popoff—before the fire.

AMUSEMENTS

CAPITOL FRIDAY NIGHT PREVIEW

A special preview will be presented Friday night at the Capitol theatre commencing at 11:15. Doors will open at 11 o'clock. The feature attraction is "Too Much Harmony."

STRAND

There is a group of more than fifty extras and "bit" players, including a finest musical comedy offering seen in this city for a long time. All ladies attending this performance will receive an autographed colored photograph of Bing Crosby, who appears in "Too Much Harmony."

When they reported to the studio they were sent to the wardrobe department to be completely outfitted with beach costumes, umbrellas, palm fronds for the kiddies, bathing caps for the ladies, and other swimming accessories. The group was then loaded into three motorable buses and driven to a lake resort more than twenty miles from warm, fluffy sound stages.

All the extras had to do during the day was to romp on the beach and continue to have "fun" before the camera as a background for action between Lee Tracy and Peggy Shannon. Everything was provided even for lollipops for the children!

BROADWAY IS STARTING WHAT CHICAGO QUIT

Two Exponents of Sensational Nude Terschore to Take a Chance

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Oct. 5—Two Broadway theatres saw a couple of slim, young, blonde fan dancers are stripping for action.

The theatre advertised Wednesday that the fan dancers will be on their next bills. The announcement meant Broadway is going to try and get away with something Chicago would not permit.

The opening gun in the fight of the fans against censorship will be fired Thursday in Brooklyn, across the East river from Manhattan and Broadway, but still a part of metropolitan New York.

Peggy Heavens, who claims to be the original fan dancing girl, will walk out on a Brooklyn vaudeville stage. Yesterday she said there would be nothing between her and the audience but two slow moving fans of large proportions.

The following day, now on the road to recover to set forth in a statement which Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will launch the campaign in connection with the refunding loan which will be offered to the public on Oct. 10.

Official announcement was made yesterday that the loan would be opened on Tuesday next, but the terms and interest rates will not be made known until later.

The loan, which it is believed will be limited to $25,000,000, to provide for the redemption of maturing securities, will be described in detail by Mr. Bennett, minister of finance. Mr. Bennett will speak from Winnipeg Monday night.

"With due precaution against unwelcome opinion I think it may be said that in Canada we are now on the road to recovery," the Prime Minister declared.

"The events of the past six months appear to demonstrate with increasing clarity that the downward trend has come to a definite stop and that an upward trend is now in progress."

Mr. Bennett turns to the latest statistical reports on industry and trade. These records, he believes, show that Canada's general economic condition reached its lowest point during the month of February last, and that "Today we are definitely on the road to recovery."

Finance Committee Refers to City Council

The question as to whether the city will erect unemployed relief dwellers on the Gravenhurst Dam on account of alleged unsanitary conditions prevailing there was referred to city commissioners for further investigation when the matter was discussed Wednesday afternoon by the finance committee.

R. R. Jenkins, financial officer of health, explained that, while some of the residents in this area lived near the community water tap and were thus able to secure a pure supply from this source, others used the raw river water. This was a menace to their health, he said.

The health officer also pointed out that other sanitary facilities necessary to a dwelling were lacking.

Ald. J. W. Fry contended that these men, who reside in makeshift shacks along the river, are men who gain their livelihood to some extent by salvaging material from the dump, were a provincial responsibility and that the province should supply them with a proper accommodation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. —The die-hard band of Washington baseball fans received their twice-defeated Senators home Wednesday night with cheers that had warmth is not

The high-riding Giants in general and Manager Bill Terry in particular were given a hand as well when they put in their appearance. But the "Good luck's" called for them were few as they carried the National League banner into the Senators' home territory for the third clash Thursday for baseball's ion honors.

There was no marching in the streets Wednesday night as the Senators came home. There were no bands nor any of the trappings. But more than 1,500 fans were on hand to form a receiving line for the grim-looking group of players as they stepped off from their train.

Calls of "Be a luck tomorrow" and "We'll do better on the home lot" met the players.

Pull For Papa

If you don't think the Giants will win the world series, try your arguments on these two youngsters. They are sons of Bill Terry.

Kenny, five, shows how Carl Hubbell whips that screw ball past the Senators, while Bill, Jr., 10, follows the team in the paper at the Terry home in Memphis, Tenn.

George Harris presented the Molitor Supply trophy for City and District championship to the Seaton Weidens and also the 75-cent shield for city senior honors.

Heard Hall handed over the Junior Moore cup to Nuxley Bowers for city junior honors.

Leakides were not on hand to take the trophy for the city senior which was presented by Walter Hunter.

A strong stand was also taken on the question of affiliation with the provincial body. Sentiment was toward staying out of the provincial playdowns unless some arrangement was made to allow a team to play in each class to represent the city.

As it was this year the provincial and local institutions claimed badly and the players are out to prevent this occurring again.
